Lindsay Roberts

Lindsay Roberts is a minister, writer, editor, wife, mother, and lifelong student of the Bible. Lindsay hosts the inspirational women's television program, Make Your Day Count. Her Bible-based teaching is infused with humor, practical application and insight into the power of God's Word for everyday living.

Lindsay Roberts is also co-host, along with her husband, Richard, of The Place for Miracles, a powerful and interactive healing program that reaches out to millions around the world. Lindsay joins Richard in praying for the those who write or call in for healing, and speaks words of faith and healing to the issues many people—especially women—are dealing with in their lives.

In May 2023, Richard and Lindsay launched a powerful, new resource for healing. The Healing Network...it's "all healing, all the time." This 24-hour network is your place for live healing prayer, anointed messages, faith building resources, miracle testimonies and much more!

Lindsay is editor and publisher of her Make Your Day Count online magazine, as well as the Richard Roberts Ministries publications. She is also the author of numerous books, including Discover Your True Worth, Cry for Miracles, 36 Hours with an Angel, the 31-day devotionals, Read & Pray & then Obey – Volumes 1 & 2, and more.

Lindsay also ministers at women's conferences, churches and online services around the country.
